The 2003 Trojans finished the season with a 12 1 record and shared the national title with the Louisiana State University (LSU) Tigers; USC won the Associated Press championship while LSU played for and won the BCS National Championship.[16] The 2004 Trojans finished with a 13 0 record that included a win in the national championship game. The team became only the second team to be ranked first in the AP Poll from preseason until the end of the season, and the tenth team to repeat as national champions.[17] Returning fourteen starters from 2004,[6] including Heisman Trophy winning quarterback Matt Leinart,[18] and with a 22 game winning streak, the Trojans were ranked at the top of the polls once again in the pre season.[8][9]After the 2004 season, four Trojan assistant coaches were offered and took jobs elsewhere. The most notable coach lost was offensive coordinator Norm Chow who took a job in the same position for the Tennessee Titans.[19] Also leaving, were defensive line coach Ed Orgeron, who took the head coaching position at Ole Miss, quarterbacks coach Carl Smith, who became the offensive coordinator for the Jacksonville Jaguars, and offensive line coach Tim Davis who was hired by the Miami Dolphins.[20] Carroll rebuilt his staff by elevating Ken Norton, Jr.
