Who is this guy, and why should we care? Darnold couldn't beat out Max Browne as a redshirt freshman in 2016, but when Browne was benched after three games, people in the NFL took notice. There was at least some can he do it again sense about Darnold early this season, after a dazzling 31 touchdown, nine interception 2016 season and a fantastic Rose Bowl performance against Penn State. Some early season struggles in 2017 pointed to the concerns NFL evaluators had (and still have) about his footwork and some of his decision making.
