Joshua Ho Sang should be a shot in the arm for the Isles attack. Islanders A first round pick in 2014, Ho Sang has drawn criticism, not least of all because he overslept in training camp a couple of years ago, earning a quick ticket back to junior. He's more outspoken than most hockey players too, but there's no denying his talent and, after he contributed 36 points in 50 AHL games last season, he was called up to the Islanders and flashed his skills, putting up 10 points in 21 games.

After the half, Cowboy quarterback Tony Romo completed two consecutive 26 yard passes to tight end Jason Witten to give them an early touchdown and restore their three point lead. On the very next play from scrimmage, Ponder fumbled the ball as he was sacked in the end zone, and the Cowboys' Nick Hayden recovered it for a touchdown, meaning the Vikings went from 10 6 up to 20 10 down in the space of two scrimmage plays. The Vikings responded immediately with a quick, six play drive, culminating with a 31 yard pass from Ponder to Kyle Rudolph to cut the Cowboys' lead back to three points.
