Yet, we also see on television what happens when athletes are dishonest; they can be publicly stripped of their dignity and reputation. Furthermore we see on television examples of moral deviance in business, politics, and entertainment; as well as the dire consequences of being held responsible for such acts. Participating in sports exposes individuals.scussions of violence in sports, like discussions of deviance, are often connected with people's ideas about the moral condition of society as a whole.

Finally, the team doctor and an unaffiliated corey white jersey neurotrauma consultant must juston burris jersey both clear him for return to play.[34][32]A league of denial[edit]The NFL spent years trying to deny and cover up any link that emerged connecting head injuries sustained while playing football with long term brain disorders. The NFL Mild Traumatic Brain Committee, first formed in 1994, reported in December 1999 that the number of head injuries had remained "remarkably the same over the course of four years."[35] The committee went a step further in 2004 when it suggested in an article published in Neurosurgery that "NFL players have evolved to a state where their brains are less susceptible to injury." Two months after that, MTBI publishes another article that concludes "Players who are concussed and return to the same game have fewer initial signs and symptoms than those removed from play. Return to play does not involve a significant risk of a second injury either in the same game or during the season."[35] However, when Dr.
