"Last week I said we have not got a lot of legs in the team and we need to be quicker," Allardyce said. "We've increased that with Theo [Walcott] and Yannick [Bolasie] when he gets back to full fitness but in midfield you have to be able to cover the ground. I think Rooney and Gylfi playing together are very shrewd, very clever and talented players but in actual terms of covering the ground it is difficult it's not their strength..

"We need a lob type pass in order to give us time to go close out."It was just about an even game through the entire first quarter, but when the Cavaliers ripped off a 9 0 run midway through the second period, control of the game was clearly wrestled away. The Thunder had its chances, however, and kept battling throughout the 48 minutes. Even on its heels after James (37 points, 14 of 23 shooting) made his first six baskets of the second half, including three three pointers, the Thunder had an answer. frank beltre jersey

While the Pats have upped the ante in the frequency and size of their postseason comebacks in the last few years, that isn't to say the concept was alien to them early in the Brady/Belichick era. In fact, in their first postseason game together, the infamous Tuck Rule game, involved a comeback from a 13 3 lead the Jon Gruden led Raiders held at the start of the fourth quarter. What most people julian stanford jersey remember from that game was the overturned fumble by Brady, though the propensity for the Pats to stage big comebacks in the playoffs has been overlooked as a hallmark of their success.
