Clarkson's political awakening comes at an interesting time for white female celebrities, many of whom have stayed strategically silent as the country becomes more polarized. While having a political opinion seems almost like a requirement for pop stars in 2017 Katy Perry, Beyonc, Lady Gaga, Rihanna, and Nicki Minaj all announced their support for Hillary Clinton during the 2016 campaign white female celebrities with more conservative fanbases have been noticeably quiet. And because white women in particular as a group are divided politically (53% of white women voted for Trump), there's extra incentive for the celebs who appeal to that fanbase to keep their views to themselves.

It was a lovely school and not a million miles away from some of the Changemaker schools where we have been conducting our research. A 'European lunch' enabled us to network with colleagues from Glasgow Caledonian and Dublin City Universities, as well as Italian and Polish academics and social entrepreneurs. There seemed to be a lot of potential synergies for example a shared desire to identify how the Ashoka approach can be implemented in a European context.

Ed fought the heartbreaking decision with appeals all the way up to the highest level of the court system. Eventually, he prevailed, marking the very first time in US history that a disabled person was awarded custody over a non disabled spouse. Even in his later years, Ed is still enjoying a remarkably blessed life.

Lost in all the focus on Burris and Lawrence was the fact that Hamilton pivot Jeff Mathews ardarius stewart jersey suffered a suspected concussion late in the game on a hit from Redblacks linebacker David Hinds. He has since been put on the one game injured list and won't play in the crucial regular season finale. That means Jacory Harris and Jeremiah Masoli, who have one combined CFL start between them, are both likely to see action at quarterback for Hamilton in the nation capital..

After Dinh's public criticism, Riot released a letter offering some concessions and promises to keep improving the league's economics.
