Description: Packers. Green Bay. The Green Bay Packers. After losing to the New England Patriots in the American Football Conference Championship Game and losing Marcus Washington who joined the Washington Redskins, the Colts shuffled their linebacker lineup and June was listed as a starter when the Colts arrived at mini camp.[88][89] At the 2004 Colts training camp, June competed with Keyon Whiteside for the starting weakside linebacker position.[90] By the end of training camp, June was the starter,[91] and 2004 rookie Gilbert Gardner was the backup.[92] June made his debut as a starter in the opening game against the 2004 Super Bowl champion New England Patriots.[93] That season, the Colts used a 4-3 defense with a fourth linebacker on passing downs.[94] In week 5, June had a team high ten tackles and his first interception in a 35 14 victory over the Oakland Raiders.[95] In week 15, June returned an interception 71 to the four yard line where he stepped out of bounds with 59 remaining in the game at the RCA Dome, the Colts' home stadium. This prompted the fans to chant for Peyton Manning to enter the game to attempt to tie Dan Marino's single season touchdown pass record. Since the Colts led the game 20 10 and had clinched the AFC South division, Manning took a knee instead.[96] Coach Dungy's scheme is designed so that the weakside linebacker is supposed to make the most tackles,[92] and June was the Colts' leading tackler by a wide margin that season.[97] June started every game that season.
