The marketing mix is often considered as the center of a marketing strategy. It is defined by Kotler and Armstrong (2010:84) as 'the set of controllable, tactical marketing tools that the firm blends to produce the response it wants in the target market.' These tools are; Product, Price, Place and Promotion, which are commonly known as the '4 Ps.' A combination of these four components offers the ability to create a successful marketing mix that will produce the desired results. This essay will first.
